WONDERFUL CAVES IN PYRAMID.

Fantastic Shapes and Figures on the Rocks—One Hundred Thousand Acres of Excellent Land—A Forest of Junipers—A Combustible Tree

[Correspondence S. F. Bulletin.]

Reno, August 6, 1878

From our boat on Pyramid lake we step at once into sagebrush and mud The nearer you are to the edge of a Nevada lake the further you are from water—so far as agricultural uses are concerned. There is no seepage or absorbtion to make things green, as there is around California lakes and bays Here water must be spread over the surface of every foot of ground, or no crops can be raised The shores of the lake rise in rapid flights, and would well deserve the name of mountains in any Eastern State Caves exist in many places, two of which are well known. The oldest and nearest the water, opens on a bluff 100 feet high, 250 feet from the shore About a dozen skeletons were scattered about it when first visited by white men They have been carried away by the curious or the agents of medical students Four miles west of the lake, in a black basalt bluff, a party recently found a small opening, into which they penetrated, descending cautiously from one chamber into another, until they found a precipice, which gave a dewish sound in response to a falling rock. Procuring ropes, the search revealed many chambers and crevices and a tangle of passage ways extending many hundred feet into the mountain. Daylight shone upon the party once through a crevice apparently 100 feet above them. There were indications of countless droves of bats and large wood rats, but nothing was seen except one of the latter. There were no stalactites or crystals found

Five miles on our way we leave the Pyramid mines to the left. The road ascends at a gentle grade about half the way to Reno, and descends little on the latter half The region northward is one of the most broken and variegated imaginable The most pronounced colors adorn the slope of the mountain facing us Beds of gypsum and chalk—of a milk white—iron stains of red and black, and rock of gray and brown Small peaks and towers shoot up, and a lively imagination will soon discover a great many faithful outlines which resolve themselves into faces and forms of great variety. We often saw cathedrals of fair proportions far away on some mountain side On a great grayish rock looking toward the east, was the face of a hairy Scotch terrier as perfect as a photograph, except that the eyes were too plainly marked In the brute they are concealed by the shaggy hair. Further on lay two huge elephants side by side. Both in form and color they are quite life like The huge ears and homely heads are perfectly distinct. How quickly the casual observer might catch the resemblance, I cannot, of course, say, but when I called the attention of our party to it they pronounced it complete

ONLY WAITING FOR IRRIGATION

Our road now descends at a sharp grade into Warm Springs Valley which spreads before us in unbroken brown Not a house breaks the monotony, not a living soul draws his subsistence from all this vast expanse It seems to be an extension of Winnemucca Valley, separated only by a bend to the south The two must contain nearly a hundred thousand acres of excellent land, which only needs water to be valuable and productive Far away on our right, near the head of Winnemucca, lie two bright green ranches, which almost glisten, in the striking contrast they present to the miles of sagebrush which enclose them on every side They are beautiful oases in a veritable desert Part of their crop is potatoes, which command better prices than those from Salt Lake or any other quarter Winnemucca creek exhausts itself on these two favorite spots Not a drop reaches our road Warm Springs Valley is three miles across and very sandy. The wind had just strength enough to keep the dust we raised in dense clouds around our heads, except when we drove at a fast trot out of pity for our beasts, which were reeking with sweat under a most intensely hot sun. We left the road where it was possible and drove more leisurely. A heavy growth of sagebrush covers the plain except in the lowest places where greasewood abounds The difference is significant as big sagebrush is a sure sign of fine, strong land, while greasewood, though growing very luxuriantly and of a much richer green is indicative of poor soil impregnated with alkali and other soapy qualities

At the place where our road intersected the Honey Lake, Surprise Valley and Oregon road, an enterprising settler has dug a well and will start a station where man and beast may receive refreshments

He got excellent water at thirty-five feet The mountains close in upon us for the next five miles, which carries us over the summit at the same gradual rise that brought us from the lake. The ridge on our right continues very high and steep. On both sides they are of a purplish tint, which I have never seen elsewhere It takes on a beautiful hue at sunset Considerable prospecting has been done, but as there are no occupants at any of the shafts or new rock on the dumps, I presume the dream is over, and some poor fellow, who was immensely wealthy while digging holes here, is now chewing borrowed tobacco

THE GIN MAKING JUNIPER—A PECULIAR COMBUSTIBLE TREE

A scrubby stunted juniper tree grows on nearly all the ridges and hill tops The berries are very abundant and about the size of the juniper berry known in commerce, from which is distilled the inspiring spirit—gin, but I cannot say whether it is the same or not. The tree is quite like the cedar in bark and wood, but differs very greatly in size and shape from that noble and stately son of the forest. The needle, which is the only approach to foliage, and represents the leaves of ordinary trees, are full of a combustible oil which goes off like a flash upon the application of a match Trees the size of an apple tree produce as fine a fire as I ever saw. A solid column of flame shot up to three times their height, and sheets of flying fire were carried off in the wind The heat was intense but of brief duration As soon as the foliage and loose bark were consumed the fire vanished as quick as it came and in four or five minutes a beautiful green tree with spreading branches and healthy roots, apparently in the prime and vigor of middle age was changed into a charred and blackened trunk, stretching its dead limbs skyward in mute reproach for our wanton play Two or three miles across the wide low divide which separates Spanish Springs from Winnemucca and Warm Springs Valley, are found Deep Wells Station, where we got a surprisingly good supper The whole place consists of a house, a small corral and a stable No gardening is attempted Vegetables, hay and grain are hauled from Reno, twelve miles A well 150 feet deep has delightful water, which alone makes the station possible, a fine lot of chickens furnish a store house for the table, a band of cattle drink here and thrive on the white sage and bunch grass they pick up in the neighborhood The valley is named from some strong springs four or five miles south of Deep Wells, which are utilized by an old Spaniard, who was the first settler Quite a patch of ground is under cultivation. He lives alone with his dog and horse He cannot talk English, and I doubt if he can Spanish

A LARGE RECLAMATION PROJECT

The valley has near 50,000 acres of first class land, smooth and free from rocks, with a warm, sandy soil sloping gently to the south, just enough to irrigate nicely It ought to raise strawberries, fruits and vegetables, as naturally as weeds. Three dollars an acre would clear off the sage brush and fit it for crops. A company with a half million dollars capital has been organized, of which Hon. J H. Neff of Colfax California is President, to reclaim it and Winnemucca Valleys by a ditch from the Truckee river. It is hoped that within two years this happy event will be accomplished, when this valley will become a little paradise. As soon as it is covered with farms and homes, and splendid fields and groves of trees, I intend to come here again and climb the highest mountain I can find, where I can sweep the whole expanse at a glance and say: "I told you so!"

SIERRA VALLEY MATTERS.

The Enterprise of Thursday says: We were yesterday shown some extraordinary fine specimens of grain that was grown in Sierra Valley this season. Among these was wheat with heads full and plump and over six inches in length, rye with heads almost as large, barley that cannot be beaten anywhere on the coast, oats as fine as ever was seen in any country, and timothy, the heads of which were nearly eight inches in hight. Last year there were grown in the valley about 100,000 bushels of grain, and this year, but for the grasshoppers, there would have been not less than 200,000 bushels. The grasshoppers injured all kinds of grain considerably, but notwithstanding their ravages the farmers will do very well. The valley contains about 300,000 acres of as fine agricultural land as can be found anywhere on the coast. There are in the valley about 10,000 head of cattle and the beef produced has the reputation of being the finest to be had on the Pacific Coast without any exception. The fruit trees are loaded with fruit and it is said that on many of the trees not less than ten pounds of fruit can be seen on limbs one foot in length. Wherever the ground is irrigated it produces abundantly all manner of grain, grasses, fruit and flowers. Heretofore there has been only sufficient water to irrigate a limited area of ground, but the new ditch of the Sierra Irrigation Company, which will be completed September 1, will bring in an immense supply. About sixty men are at work on the ditch, and it is so far completed that there is no doubt that the work will be finished at or about the time mentioned. This will be too late to do much good this season—though it may be used on meadows—but it insures an abundant supply of water for next Spring as early as use can be found for it. This water will soon make the valley one of the finest and richest on the coast.

At the commencement of the Atlanta University for Freedmen, Governor Colquitt and other members of the Examining Committee expressed most earnestly their purpose to cooperate in the elevation of the colored race. Judge Hardin said: "I was a slave-holder, and so were all the members of this Examining Committee. We are bound to raise you if you can be raised."

Mexican Dollars, the Director of the Mint decides, are only worth their value in bullion, which, according to the present price of silver, is about ninety cents. Our own trade dollar is in somewhat the same category. The standard dollar is a legal tender. All this has been again and again published, but it seems difficult to make even those who are interested in the question understand it.

It has been proven that Kearney stole the commencement of his oration at Faneuil Hall from Bob. Ingersoll's speech when he nominated Blaine for President; and the concluding portion of his speech was one of Tom Fitch's perorations.

THE GREENBACK PARTY.

There is a new political party growing up all over the country, which promises to be a strong one before the next Presidential election. In some States this new organization is called "The National Party;" and in others, "The National-Greenback-Labor-Party." This latter has a long tail to carry, but as it takes in all the others, we presume it has an undoubted right to own a tail five hundred feet long if it chooses. But it is quite necessary that it should have a head also, and one well stocked with brains.

Under the several names which this party assumes, it is making considerable progress, especially in the West and Middle States. In New England it has also taken root, and is to-day strong enough to give the old organizations, and especially the Republicans, a big scare. In Massachusetts it has a robust organization, embracing many prominent polititians, with working clubs in Boston, Worcester, Springfield, Lynn Fall River, Lowell, Natick, Northampton and other smaller towns. We believe it claims the sympathy of General Butler, Wendell Phillips, F. W. Bird, and many other able men, who have become disgusted with the Republican and Democratic parties. One of these representative men is undoubtedly looking to the leadership of this new organization, and that man is General Butler, who has ambition, courage and brains enough to lead even a "forlorn hope." But the Greenback party is not a "forlorn hope," in any way; it is young, strong and growing with remarkable vigor. It will raise the Old Scratch in Massachusetts this Autumn unless we are greatly mistaken.

In Maine the Greenbackers have quite as much vitality as the Democrats, and full as much pluck as the Republicans. Some sections of that State are already but dogu as hopelessly lost to the Republicans; and although that organization has just held a State Convention for the nomination of State officers, (with 900 delegates, and with Jim Blaine as President,) yet it is plainly evident, by the remarks and resolutions, that the Republican army in Maine is afraid of the Greenback host, and like McClellan on the Virginia Peninsula, is frantic for "more recruits." It is intimated—but with how much truth we cannot say— that the Greenbackers will poll 20,000 votes. If so, the fighting there will be triangular, and until the battle is over nobody can tell which party will be victorious.

In Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont the Greenback party is obtaining a great many proselytes, and clubs are organized in nearly all the cities and large villages. What does this mean? Are the people in favor of a perpetual greenback currency? It looks like it, although we attribute more to the general disgust of voters with the old parties, with old and thread bare issues, with broken down and decayed partisan leaders. Hence, there is more than a possibility that the discontented political elements of the entire country will crystalize into the new "Greenback Party," and give the Republicans and Democrats a lively fight for the next Presidency.

Coin in the Mails.—It has been decided to extend the registry system to third-class mail matter, so as to allow the transportation of coin in the mails. The registry system, as applied to first-class mail matter, is self-supporting, and there is no reason to think it will not be when applied to third-class. At any rate, the Postal Department has determined to give it a trial. The exigencies of the case favor the experiment. The country is about to go to the metallic standard. It may become necessary to move coin about more freely than has been done during the last sixteen years, especially as the dollar promises to become an important factor in our currency system. The details of the application of the system have not been made public.

This is the reason St. Louis suffered so much from heat during the late warmth: The city is situated upon lime rock, and densely built. The rock and the bricks get heated and make the air hot. Now, in dry air the perspiration from the skin will evaporate. But there the air is continually moist, and therefore does not carry off the surplus heat which comes as perspiration from the body. Besides, hot, damp air is very unhealthy to breathe Then, again, St. Louis is situated where there is very little wind to carry away this fatal atmosphere.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, August 2, 1878.

Some of the facts developed in the Police Court and by individual investigation relative to the swindling practiced by Cohen and other self styled "labor reformers" and "leaders" of the laboring masses in Washington, are worthy of serious consideration by honest laboring men everywhere. Cohen is

A TRAMP.

He came here several months ago and since then has striven like other cheap demagogues to thrust himself to the front as a leader of the laboring element of the District by street harangues. The tolerance of the authorities was mistaken for cowardice and his drivel grew more and more sanguinary as he found no one disposed to notice him. Of course he secured something of a following among the most ignorant and that class of men who spend their days and evenings at the low groggeries or at the street corners abusing everybody who by industry have succeeded in accumulating anything, while their wives and children have kept the breath of life in their miserable carcasses on the proceeds of begging from door to door. All respectable labor organizations repudiated Cohen and his crowd. A majority of them are of the kind that would prefer anything to honest labor. They are of the sort all over the country who refuse work at any price and make war on labor saving machinery while they shout bread or blood. Cohen all this time has been taking up collections at his meetings, ostensibly to aid him in organizing labor, but really to support him in his idleness. In feeble imitation of Kearney, he had arrived at the distinction of having several "private secretaries"—Heaven only knows what for. Since his and their arrest they have "peached" on him and it has all come out how the money he wormed out of his poor deluded dupes has been diverted to subsisting Cohen and his "secretaries." But this typical reformer claimed the lion's share, and even supplied himself with an abundance of good cigars to keep up appearances commensurate with his importance, I presume. Is he very dissimilar to the Kearneys and the Schwabs, who seek to exasperate their followers up to the point of riotous demonstration, as Cohen's were last Friday and Saturday, while they keep at a safe distance in the rear. But the

REAL WORKING MEN

Of this District are suffering—some of them from the pangs of slow starvation—and it seems the large appropriations for expenditure here are not yet available because of red tape restrictions imposed by pompous officials. The assurance is given out by friends of the Administration that there will be no further temporizing with the spirit of nullification rampant in the South, and particularly so in South Carolina where it has reared its brazen front in defiance of United States authority. It is said Judge Bond will soon hold a special term of his Court and that sufficient force will be employed to make Kershaw respect the habeas corpus process issued to bring the four imprisoned revenue officials before a U. S. Court. Since Senator Patterson prostituted the influence of his high position to aid in foisting a

KU KLUX MURDERER

On the Senate, his prophecies don't make a deep impression. However he has aroused some anxiety in circles solicitous to preserve the fruits of the war still left us, by a prediction that Hamption and his rifle-club judges will triumph in this case and that the Government will submit to Kershaw's ruling. Meanwhile the officers are still in prison for daring to do their duty, While the

INDIAN AGENTS

By their thefts and swindles contributed largely to the presen outbreak, it is very doubtful if they alone could have succeeded in driving the Indians to the overt act of war. But our last economical House ably assisted, and between the two there is a bill of costs of millions of dollars to be paid by the tax-payers who indulged themselves in the luxury of a "Reform" House which, by its indifference to treaty stipulations, drove the Indians into a desertion of their reservations to avoid starvation.

MEXICO

Seeks to offset our complaints of her marauders by a counter charge of raiding by Texans on her soil, and the Cabinet has it under consideration.

In the absence of any proof of the correctness of the charges made in a St. Louis paper against Capt. Eads, does not fair play demand that we give his defense in the New York Tribune a candid hearing and take into consideration his wonderful work of improvement at the mouth of the Mississippi, by which he has fairly earned the character of benefactor to every resident of the Mississippi Valley? Honor to whom honor is due." It should not be forgotten by the tens of thousands directly benefitted by the recent decision of the Interior Department relative to railroad lands, that they are indebted to Hon. E. M. Marble, Assistant Attorney General of that Department, for the same. LOGAN.

ENGLAND'S RIGHTFUL KING.

It is a curious fact, and one not generally known, that King Victor Emmanuel was, by strict law of succession, the rightful King of England. He was descended in a direct line from Charles 1. The youngest daughter of that unhappy monarch, the Princess Henrietta Maria, married Gaston d'Orleans, the brother of Louis XIV. She died, leaving two daughters. The eldest became Queen of Spain, and died childless. The younger married the heir to the House of Savoy, and was the ancestress of the late King of Italy. After the revolution of 1688, when the right to succession to the British throne was settled by act of Parliament, the House of Savoy was excluded on account of the Catholic religion professed by its members. The House of Hanover, of which Queen Victoria is the representative, was several removes further from the direct succesfion, deriving, as it did, its claims from James I, through Queen Elizabeth of Bohemia, and her daughter, the Electress Sophia. A striking commentary on the consequences of human actions is afforded by this story of a royal inheritance. When Charles I., espoused a Catholic Princess he could scarcely have imagined that by this act he was excluding his direct descendants from the throne of their fathers; and still less could his Queen have foreseen that any descendant of her favorite child, so carefully trained by her in the tents of her own religion, ever overthrow temporal power of the Pope, and he himself installed upon the throne.—Boston Pilot.

Local Brevities.

But little is doing in the real estate line.

Our markets continue well supplied with fruit and vegetables.

The rise in stocks has made some of the Reno boys a good deal better off.

The town patrol force will remain on duty, until the vags are all driven out

Reserved seats can be secured at Jamison's for Henry Ward Beecher's lecture.

The weather continues intensely hot. Our Eastern neighbors have not much the best of us.

Reno is an unhealthy place for vags, or loafers of any kind. That sort of cattle will do well to keep away from this town.

Off the Track.

An open switch at Cascade yesterday morning caused the east bound passenger train to leave the track and become so badly ditched that it took about eight hours to get it back into position again. The lightning, being behind, was also delayed. No. 1 got here at about 10:30, and was closely followed by the lightning. The Virginia train was delayed to connect with the latter, and left for the shades of Mount Davidson at 11 o'clock. Nobody hurt.

At The Opera House.

The Workingmen will hold their meeting at the Opera House this evening, instead of at Earl's depot. Ladies are respectfully invited.

REV. R. A. RICKER will preach in the M. E. Church to-morrow.

State Fair Pavilion---$3,473 Subscribed---A Good List of Special Premiums.

The citizens assembled at the Opera House last evening to hear from the committees appointed at a previous meeting.

Mr. Crockett, from the Committee on Subscription, reported that the amount subscribed to date was $3,473 (cheers) The prospect was favorable for raising the amount required to carry out the object.

Mr. Koust, from the Committee on Special Premiums, reported that they had received special premiums to the value of $215.

Mr. J. Frazier contributed $25 toward the pavilion fund and Jas. C. Woodward $25.

Mr. Beck thought that the meeting should decide upon the location and size of the pavilion, and suggested that a committee be appointed to act with the President of the Society, and select the location. Mr. Hymers moved that the chair appoint a committe of three for that purpose. The chair appointed T. K. Hymers, J. S. Shoemaker and L. L Crockett, as such committee. Mr. C. C Stevenson was added to the committee.

Adjourned until next Friday evening.

Queer Town, This.

Ever since the citizens began to guard the town against any overt act on the part of lawless ones, every stranger out nights has had to render a strict account of himself. A tramp, wishing to get over considerable ground before the sun rose, was hastily walking up Commercial Row at about 1 o'clock Thursday morning, when just at Barnett's corner a man stepped in front of him and, covering him with a shotgun, demanded where he was from. "Virginia." "Where was he going?" "To Verdi." "Well, sir," said the sentry, "you just take the center of that track, and don't you leave it until you are out of town!" Glad to get away from that ugly-looking gun, the tramp hastened to obey. He got in front of Hagerman's store, when another gun was poked in his face, and the same questions asked and answered. Starting once more on his journey to the Western Addition, another gun with a man behind it stopped him. His answers were satisfactory and the familiar order was repeated, when he spoke up: "What kind of a d—d town is this? Every man you meet pokes a shooting iron in your face and tells you to git, and you bet, I'm going!" The officer tells this on himself, and mil s out loud at the tramp's discomfiture.

Edison.

Thomas A. Edison, the noted inventor, was a passenger on the delayed overland train yesterday morning, returning from his California trip. He has visited the various points of interest in that State, and yesterday went to the Comstock to visit the mines and test another of his many inventions. As we understand it, the new invention will tell the presence of gold and silver ore, and the extent of the ledge. He will try it on the mines that we expect to hear from any day. He will return to Reno this evening and continue East. He is to meet a party of gentlemen in Omaha on the 13th, and so has to hasten his trip somewhat. The trip West has been full of pleasure to him, and he returns to his workshop refreshed and invigorated. No doubt many new and wonderful inventions will be the result of this little rest.

"Going, Going, Gone."

The tramps are taking the advice of the late lamented Horace, and are going West; not particularly in that direction, however, but whichever way happens to be most convenient. Seven were ordered to appear before Judge Richardson and receive sentence at 5 P. M yesterday, but they were last heard from at Verdi. Others did not wait to receive a summons but lit on the first train, and our population has decreased twenty in the last day. The beauty of the proposition is that the good work is to go on.

Catfish.

Yesterday morning fourteen cases of young catfish came up from California. They are to be placed in the waters of Nevada and in a year or two we may expect to have plenty of them for angling.

Theater.

The Tom Taylor Combination, will give an entertainment at the Academy of Music to-morrow night. The price of admission is only 50 cents.

THE Caledonian picnic comes off to-day at Dall's grove, Franktown. It will be a very pleasant affair.

Sheriff.

Mr. Geo. Shaefer will be a candidate before the Democratic County Convention for Sheriff Mr. Shaefer is one of our best business men, is popular, fully capable of making a good officer, and would make a strong run before the people.

Bullion.

Last night's shipment was as follows: 19 bars of Con. Virginia worth $86,129 18, and two bars of Northern Belle valued at $3,436 64.

POLITICAL NONSENSE.

A New York Sun's Washington special, on the possible renomination of Grant by the Republicans, says: The scheme requires delicate political engineering. Money alone can furnish the driving power, and that money, knowing ones ever, is forthcoming. They point with pride to Mackay's oriental reception of Grant in Paris. They say the silver and railroad kings of Nevada and California are alarmed. They fancy that the labor reformers will dispoil them of their wealth. Mackay makes no secret of his fears, and Stanford, Crocker, Hayward, Jones, Sharon and others are prepared to follow his footsteps. With Grant in the chair at the White House they think their accumulations would be secure, that no constitutional barriers would stand in his way when his friends were in danger. He has frequently used the army without authority, and would not scruple to do so again. In a conversation in Virginia City last Spring, Mackay is reported to have said: "I will give $1,000,000 to secure Grant the Republican nomination, and another $1,000,000 to compass his election, and once in the White House, I will give $1,000,000 to keep him there for life." He added this might seem strange talk, but he would put up the money, believing it to be a good investment; that a man ought to insure his house against fire. Grant is the insurance company for the Pacific Railroad robbers, land-grabbers and manipulators of mineral lands, and they are prepared to take large blocks of stock in him.

WHAT THEY PROPOSE TO DO.

The Enterprise has the following on what the aspirants for the nomination for Governor on the Republican ticket propose to do to ascertain the party's choice for standard bearer:

The proposed plan for securing an expression of the will of the Republican party at the coming primary elections in this county in reference to the several candidates for the nomination for Governor, and of giving to the candidate receiving a plurality of the votes cast the united delegation of the county in the State Convention, receives the approval, we are happy to say, of an overwhelming majority of the Republicans of the county, as well as of the candidates themselves. We need not repeat that the plan meets with our hearty approval, and will be faithfully adhered to. The following note from Gen. Batterman expresses his acquiescence in the plan:

EDITOR ENTERPRISE: There has been a great deal of newspaper discussion as to the propriety of having the people of Storey county vote directly for their preference for gubernatorial candidates at the approaching Republican primaries. Having myself an honorable ambition to be the candidate selected by the State Convention for that position, and feeling that the will of the people should be consulted in the selection of delegates to that Convention, I am willing to submit my name to the direct vote of the party at the primaries—the ballot to be protected by such tests as will secure the free and fair expression of the members of the Republican party; and if, under this plan, I cannot secure the support of the Republican voters of Storey county, I shall not present my name to the Convention. Yours, truly,

C. C. BATTERMAN.

We are authorized to state that Mr. A. J. Tyrrell, whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination, and who has a multitude of friends in Storey County, also cordially approves and accepts the plan referred to. This secures its adoption beyond a peradventure, and guarantees a united vote for Storey County in the nomination of a candidate for Governor.

THE new Chinese Minister and his diplomatic suite have no idea of settling down in cheap lodgings in Washington. One of the finest residences at the capital, built by ex-Senator Stewart, of Nevada, and known to at least local fame as "Castle Stewart," will, it is said, become their headquarters.

The Chinaman shot by Salisbury will recover, as also will the woman.
